

LEGISLATURE

SETTLES DOWN TO WORK

Several Important Measures
Were Passed Yesterday.

SULLIVAN EDUCATIONAL BILL
CARRIES IN HOUSE AND CRE-CELIOUS TOBACCO BILL IN SENATE.

AFTERNOON SESSION HELD

The House yesterday morning passed the Sullivan educational bill, which changes the whole system of school trustees and establishes a high school in every county in the State. There was some opposition to the bill and the debate was long, many speeches being made for and against it. The bill provides that the county shall be the governing unit in school matters and that a tax of not to exceed 20 cents shall be levied for school purposes in each county. A county board of education, which shall consist of not less than four nor more than eight members, with the county school superintendent as a member ex-officio. This board is to be selected by the election of one school trustee in each school district and the trustees of these districts to compose a division board of education in each educational division of the county, of which there shall be not less than four nor more than eight. The teachers are to be selected by the division boards and each trustee is required to look after the needs of the schools in their districts. The main feature of the bill, aside from the alteration in the methods of managing schools, is that each county in the State shall have a high school. The bill now goes to the Senate and is practically certain to pass there, both the Democrats and Republicans favoring it.

In the Senate to-day an important local option measure was passed. This provides that no distiller shall sell intoxicating liquor in any local option district except to a licensed wholesale or retail dealer. This will do away with the present plan of small distilleries selling whiskey in five gallon lots to anybody who may apply. Senator McNutt's bill creating the office of assistant jail physician in Louisville was passed by a unanimous vote. The county unit bill came up again this morning in the Senate when the House bill, which has passed, was read and referred to a committee. On motion of Senator Rives the bill was referred to the Kentucky Statutes Committee. This does not affect the bill, however, as the Rules Committee is in complete charge and the bill can be called up only on motion of the Rules committee.

The Senate passed the Creclius bill providing a penalty for selling or buying pooled tobacco, after it had been amended so as to provide that the penalty should be inflicted only where a person knowingly buys such pooled tobacco. Other bills were passed and the Senate disposed of a great deal of business.

Much business of importance was transacted by the House and Senate yesterday and the two bodies are now getting down to work with the prospect that all the bills which need attention will be disposed of before the session adjourns. There remains of the session only nine days, but in that time a great deal of business can be transacted and the session will end with a great deal accomplished, especially for the cause of education.

FATAL ACCIDENT

To Anderson County Farmer Whose Pistol Is Accidentally Discharged.

Mr. Ishmael Proctor, one of the best known young farmers of the western part of Anderson county, was accidentally shot at his home near Glessboro, and died at an early hour yesterday morning.

He had been to his barn shooting rats and while returning to the house his pistol was accidentally discharged. The bullet entered his right eye and he lingered only a few hours. He is survived by his wife.

SENATOR BRADLEY.

Entertained Tuesday Evening By Members Of The Legislature At Capital Hotel.

One of the gayest and most enjoyable social events of the General Assembly session was the dance and reception given at the Capital Hotel Tuesday evening by the members of the Legislature in honor of Senator-elect W. O. Bradley and his daughter, Mrs. John G. South. The grand march was led by Gov. Bradley and Mrs. W. H. Cox, wife of the Lieutenant Governor.

Among the informal features were banjo playing by Representative Henry Denham, of the Metcalfe-Monroe district, who also called the figures for the quadrilles. Representative "Windy Bill" Thompson, of Spencer county, showed himself quite handy with his feet and danced a genuine old-fashioned "breakdown" for the edification of the large assembly. The affair was made a society event and many handsome costumes were in evidence. A number of guests were present from Louisville and Lexington and many other points in Central Kentucky.

DEMOCRATIC

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

SAYS SENTIMENT IN KENTUCKY IS UNIVERSAL FOR BRYAN
AND PREDICTS HIS NOMI-NATION.

Democratic Nat. Committeeman Urey Woodson was in the city on business matters during the week. Mr. Woodson is keeping busy as secretary of the sub-committee which is making arrangements for the national convention at Denver, which he believes will prove to be one of the biggest Democratic love feasts this country has ever seen.

"Kentucky is certain to cast a solid vote for Bryan for the nomination," he said in the lobby of the Capital Hotel. "All this talk of some of the Eleventh-district leaders being against him and favoring Judson Harmon has panned out to be idle gossip. I have investigated conditions in every part of the State and find the sentiment almost universal for the nomination of the Nebraskan."

"I further believe that all signs point most auspiciously toward his election. Roosevelt is handing it to him—that's all there is to it. The Republicans were never split so badly in their history; there is the big stick constantly over their heads; the panic factories idle all over the land; men out of employment and wages being reduced. The Republicans have lost their 'full-dinner-pail' campaign slogan, and the only hope for the return of the country to sane conditions is the election of Mr. Bryan."

RAISE HEMP.

There is as much or more profit in hemp at $7 per hundred, which is being paid now, as there is in tobacco at the prices that are asked by the poolers. The same ground will grow either, and here is an argument for more hemp and less tobacco this year.

RULES COMMITTEE IS "IT"

The county unit extension bill, extending the provisions of the county unit law to every county in the State, was passed for good and all, as far as the present session of the Legislature is concerned, on Thursday when the Senate adopted a rule requiring a two-thirds vote to call any bill from the hands of the rules committee. The rule was adopted as a result of an agreement between the Democrats and Republicans who thought it would be better to have one committee in complete control rather than have a general scramble for the passage of their pet measures, by all the members of the Senate. The rules committee is opposed to the passage of the county unit bill and will not report it. The advocates of the measure can not muster the necessary two-thirds vote to call the bill from the committee, so it will die a natural death and the verdict will be: "Choked to death on politics."

The bill had a stormy time, anyhow. It hung up in the House for some weeks and not only was not considered but it effectually prevented anything else from being considered. Between the county unit bill and the contest cases, which the Republicans were howling to have reported, and then the Senatorial race, there was not much chance for anything. These three things tied up the House so tight that nothing was done. For four weeks not a committee had a chance to make a report and the chairmen of the various committees carried bills around in their pockets until the paper was worn and frayed, and when the committees did get a chance to report on Thursday last, the bills were almost worn out. The county unit bill transferred itself from the House to the Senate and the same sort of business was repeated. There seemed to be something about the county unit bill which filled everybody with a desire to adjourn just as soon as it was mentioned.

In the Senate, however, things were not tied up so badly as in the House, for there were more members against the bill and it had less chance of passing. The Senate finally took the bill by the horns and put the bill on the shelf so that it is out of the way and will not block up legislation as it has done in the House. The bill came within an ace of getting up on Wednesday and might have passed but for a change in one vote. Senator Rives, who has been fighting for the bill, made his usual motion that the rules be suspended and the bill taken from the committee and put on its passage. Senator Charlton moved to lay this motion on the table. The motion to table was lost by a tie vote of 17 to 17, the chair not voting, but declaring the motion lost because it did not prevail. He then put the original motion to suspend the rules, and Senator Conn Linn, who had voted against tabling the motion, changed his vote and voted against taking the bill from the committee. The motion was lost, the vote being 18 to 16. The county unit opponents thought their time had come and were badly frightened, but that night things were done, and the bill was laid away without funeral services on the day following.

Next to the county unit bill the McCord bill has aroused most interest, and the fate of this bill, under the new rule in the Senate, is problematic. It is said that the rules committee is against the bill and that the supporters of it can not muster the necessary two-thirds to get it out of the hands of that committee, but the supporters of the measure say that it will be passed and it then will be up to the Governor whether or not it shall become a law. The McCord bill, bill, but little of the bills, of small importance, to one particular locality, was passed and much routine work was disposed of so that the House can get down to business now and get something done before the session closes. The Rules Committee of the House and Senate took hold on Friday and these two committees now have the say as to what shall be considered. These two committees are complete masters of the two bodies, when it comes to saying what shall be considered, and they will weed out the undesirable bills.

MRS. HOLTMAN.

Who Is Shy On Cash Asks Appellate Court For Rule Against Clerk In Divorce Case.

In case of Louise Bullock Holtman v. J. J. Holtman, on appeal from a judgment of the Kenton Circuit Court, the appellant Mrs. Holtman, filed her affidavit before the Court of Appeals to show cause why she shall not be compelled to make and deliver to appellant a transcript of the record for the purpose of her appeal.

The clerk had refused to make a copy of the record without payment of his fee. Appellant says she has no means to pay his fee and that she is entitled to a hearing of her appeal and can not have it without the record. The motion for the rule was submitted. This is an action for divorce by Mrs. Holtman. The court below decided against her and she has prayed an appeal.

LENT

BEGAN ON ASH WEDNESDAY

FROM NOW UNTIL EASTER THE DEVOUT ARE EXPECTED TO DENY THEMSELVES PLEAS-URES.

The fact of Lent, which began on Ash Wednesday and ends on Easter Sunday is being observed in the Catholic and Episcopal Churches of this city. At the Church of the Good Shepherd the usual Ash Wednesday services were held Wednesday morning at eight o'clock, followed by a high mass.

It is the custom in the Catholic Church to sprinkle ashes on the foreheads of those who approach the altar and to remind them that they will return to dust, hence the term Ash Wednesday. Regulations for Lent were read in the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday. Bishop C. P. Maes, of this diocese lays down the same rules that obtained last year. The use of meat is prohibited on Wednesdays and Fridays, which are fast days.

On Wednesday and Friday night of each week services will be held at the Catholic Church. During Lent marriages are not allowed in the Catholic Church, and the devout are expected to refrain from attending amusements.

Lenten services were held at the Episcopal church Wednesday morning and also that evening, and will continue throughout the season of Lent on the following days and hours:

Tuesday and Thursday at four o'clock.
Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 o'clock.

A SESSION

VERY PROBABLE

League May Circulate Petitions.

FAILURE TO REDISTRICTING
BILL AND OTHER MEASURES
DISTURBING THE GOVER-

NOR.

TO STOP NIGHT RIDING

The killing of the county unit bill in the Senate and the failure to pass a redistricting bill, or even to consider either, has caused a renewal of the talk of an extra session and it was stated on reliable authority that Gov. Willson will call an extra session to consider four subjects. These four subjects are the county unit bill, a redistricting bill, bipartisan boards for the control of the State penal and charitable institutions and some measures to relieve the tobacco troubles which have caused the Governor so much anxiety. It is said that the Governor has made up his mind finally that the State must have a redistricting bill, in accordance with the decision of the Court of Appeals which knocked out the last bill that was passed by the Legislature and also that something must be done to stop the raids by night riders. The talk of an extra session is all that one hears now as the big things which occupied the attention of the public during the weeks which have passed have all been settled one way or the other.

Gov. Willson is known to be disappointed in the Legislature and is said to have expected the two bodies to pass a redistricting bill, although it is hardly believed that he expected the passage of the bill which was drawn by the Republicans and which would have put the Republicans in control in the State. In order to get a redistricting bill it is said to be practically certain that he will call an extra session and that he will include in the call, as a part of the business which is to be considered, the county unit bill. Gov. Willson has not talked regarding his intentions on the subject of an extra session but his close friends say that it is practically a certainty that he will issue the call. The extra session may not be held immediately following the present session but it may be several weeks before the call is issued.

The Anti-Saloon League, which is a power in Kentucky as well as other States, is said to have already decided that in case this session ends without the passage of the county unit bill, petitions asking an extra session will be sent to the Governor from every precinct in the State and will make things so strong that he will be practically forced to call the extra session. This plan is said to have been fully decided on and will be put into execution at once. Frankfort is much interested in all this talk and many would like to see the Legislature come back for an extra session.

A prominent Republican member of the Legislature said he is confident Gov. Willson expects to call an extra session. He said that while the Governor did not say it in so many words he asked questions the purport of which showed that he is at least considering the matter very carefully.

GOVERNMENT.

Pays For Site On Which New Federal Building Will Be Erected At Paris.

The transfer of the Anthony Thornton property, corner of Eighth and Pleasant streets, which was recently purchased by the Government for a Federal building site, was formally completed at Paris, when special agent George M. Davidson, of the Treasury Department turned over to attorney John M. Brennin, trustee, a check for the purchase price, $7,250.

Work on the building will probably be begun in the summer.

GRAND JURY.

Indicts Indian Refining Company and Kentucky Traction Company At Versailles.

The grand jury of the Woodford Circuit Court returned indictments against the Indian Refining Company, of Georgetown, for transporting oil in tank wagons and unlawfully selling the same at retail without license.

The grand jury also indicted the Central Kentucky Traction Company on eight counts for failure to maintain signal boards on its line in Woodford county at points where public highways are crossed by the railroad and for failing to safeguard its employees by blocking the frogs on its tracks.

You will need to take extra pains to have your milk clean and free from odors now. But you can do it by taking care to wipe the udders off clean, and by bedding the cows, and currying them every day. Don't miss any of these things.

REUNION

TO BE HELD IN LOUISVILLE

OF THE SURVIVORS OF KEN-TUCKY'S CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

A special from Louisville last night says:

Within the next few days Attorney Frank P. Straus will call a meeting of the members of the Constitutional Convention from Louisville for the purpose of arranging for a reunion of the surviving members of the convention held in 1890-1891. One hundred of the brainiest men in Kentucky formed the convention which gave to the State its present Constitution. Men who afterwards became famous in the State and nation helped from the Constitution under which the people now live.

Of the members from Jefferson county, nine in number, six of them survive. Five of them live in Louisville and are Col. Bennett H. Young, Edward J. McDermott, T. J. Funk, Dr. M. K. Allen and Morris Sachs. Mr. Straus represented Bullitt county, where he lived and practiced his profession at the time.

Many of the members of the Constitutional Convention were young men, and later became prominent in public life. From the Constitutional Convention William Lindsay went to the United States Senate as the successor of John G. Carlisle, while among those who went to the lower house of Congress were D. H. Smith, who represented Larue county; George Gilbert, of Shelby county; A. D. James, of Muhlenburg county, and others. The late William Goebel was a member from Kenton county, and later became Governor of Kentucky. T. J. Nunn and John D. Carroll, both of whom are members of the Court of Appeals, represented Christian and Henry counties, respectively.

It was as a result of a chance meeting in Louisville of Judge Nunn and Judge Carroll and Mr. Straus that it was suggested that a reunion of the survivors of the convention be held. Mr. Straus, Judge Nunn and Judge Carroll at once became enthusiastic. Of the 100 members of the convention about sixty of them survive, and it is certain that they would all be glad to go to Louisville for the reunion.

GOV. BECKHAM

TO RESUME LAW PRACTICE

Said To Have Told a Friend That He Was Out Of Active Politics.

Former Governor J. C. W. Beckham will, according to a close personal friend, resume the practice of law in a short time. He is said to have told this friend that he is through with active politics and that he intends to shortly settle down and practice his profession. While he did not say where he would locate it is believed by many of his friends that he will make Frankfort his home. As he was formerly a law partner of Eli H. Brown, a member of the Prison Commission, there is some speculation as to whether this partnership will be resumed.

BRECKINRIDGE

NOTES

BURNS AT CENTRE COLLEGE

SEVERAL OF THE STUDENTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPES. WILL BE RE-BUILT AT ONCE.

Just before noon Monday Breckinridge Hall the largest building in connection with Centre College, at Danville, was discovered on fire. The first and third stories were used as living rooms by the students and several narrow escapes were made. A. U. Davidson, a student from Marion, and Geo. Alley, of Fulton, were surrounded by flames, but fortunately had a long rope in their room, which they fastened to furniture and then lowered themselves to the ground. Their hands were blistered, and the roof fell in shortly after they landed.

Practically all of the belongings of the fifty boys who roomed in Breckinridge Hall were destroyed, and the young men are being provided with homes in private families throughout Danville. The hall will be rebuilt at once. It was erected in 1881 and was named in honor of Dr. R. J. Breckinridge, who at that time was a leader in the theological seminary, which has since been moved to Louisville.

Noonan, she leaves the vacant lot, on the east side of her home, on Main street, to dispose of as he may see fit. Her personal property, of every description, she gives to her daughter, Ella Noonan. FRANK O'NEIL,

Brother of Rev. Jno. J. O'Neill, of This City, Dies at Home in Lexington.

Mr. Frank O'Neill, a well known business man of Lexington, who, for more than 30 years, has conducted a grocery store at the corner of Limestone and Mechanic streets, died at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from a complication of maladies, at the home of his father, Mr. James O'Neill, on North Limestone street. He was 54 years of age and has been a lifelong resident of Lexington.

Mr. O'Neill is survived by one brother, the Rev. O'Neill, who is assistant rector of the Catholic church here and a sister, Miss Susie O'Neill, of Lexington who was at his bedside when the end came.

Mr. O'Neill was a man of quiet, thoughtful demeanor, a loyal friend, and in every line of life won and held the respect and esteem of his fellow-citizens, who will regret his untimely taking off.

The funeral services were held Thursday morning at nine o'clock from St. Pauls Church.

Rev. O'Neill, brother of the deceased, was the celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass. Assisting him were Rev. Father Risner, deacon at the mass; Rev. Jos. Flynn, of Georgetown, sub-deacon; Rev. Martin Delaney, master of ceremonies, who also preached at the funeral.

The burial was held at St. Paul's Catholic cemetery.

The Elders and Deacons, held a joint meeting at the Southern Presbyterian Church, and adopted resolutions in reference to the death of Walter G. Chapman, who died Sunday, March 8th.

Mr. H. Z. Churchill left Friday for Jessamine county, where he goes to spend a few weeks with friends after which he goes to his old home in Hardin county to reside. The Bishops, many friends in Frankfort regret he is not to make his future home here.

Mr. Wm. S. Farmer returned Tuesday from New York where he spent two weeks. While in the east Mr. Farmer selected an elegant line of the latest styles of Ladies Tailored Suits, Skirts and Waists which he will display at an early date.

County Clerk N. B. Smith issued the following marriage licenses during the past week: Moses Phillips, 24 years of age, and Addie Smith, 17 years of age, both of Grafenburg, and Albert Hockensmith, 29 years of age and Hannah Cohorn, age 26 years, of Elmville.

Mr. Phil J. Brogan, of Louisville, has purchased an interest in the plumbing shop of Mr. Charles Whitehead, on Bridge street, which for the past year has been conducted by Mr. Julian Tilford, as agent.

Mr. Bogau, who is a practical plumber, comes highly recommended from his home in Louisville. He assumed charge of the business on Monday morning and will conduct it under the firm name of The Frankfort Plumbing Co.

Mr. Edw. B. Dumas, leader of the Second Regiment Band, received a telegram last night from Louisville stating that his brother Mr. Frances Dumas had been badly crushed in some machinery, while at work in the foundry of the Ahrens and Ott Manufacturing Co., in that city.

Mr. Dumas will leave this morning for Louisville to be with his brother who is at St. Anthony's Hospital.

One of the first appointments of a Democrat to office which is expected to be made by Governor Willson will probably be that of Senator Conn Linn of Calloway county, as a member of the Board of Regents of the Western Kentucky State Normal School. Mr. H. C. Miller, a member of the Board has resigned, having left the State.

Col. Mervin Parrent, who for the past four years has been Assistant Adjutant General of Kentucky, and who recently went out of office, will leave the latter part of April for New Orleans, Louisiana, where he has accepted a position with the General Supply and Construction Company, who were the contractors on Kentucky's New Capital. The company are engaged in building a large hotel in the Crescent City.

The local order of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will give a moving picture show at the Capital City Theatre on Wednesday evening, March 11, at which they will display The Holy City, Ben Hur and Daniel Boone. The pictures of Ben Hur will be something entirely different from any ever shown in this section of the country as they were taken from the original play at Manhattan Beach where Third Battalion of the New York National Guard acted as the soldiers.

An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged as this is for a worthy cause the S. R. O. sign will no doubt have to be hung out early in the evening.

Mr. Caleb W. Merchant entertained a party of friends Wednesday evening at his home on Steele street with a dutch luncheon and smoker, in compliment to Mr. Luke Norman, who left Thursday morning for Louisville where he has accepted a position as traveling salesman with the Bradley-Gilbert Company. Among those who enjoyed Mr. Merchants hospitality were: Messrs. L. C. Norman, S. W. Howell, Jr., Ike A. Kennedy, Jack Drennon, Edw. Coke and Paul Howard.

Mr. Ben Watt, of Bowling Green, who has been making his home in this city for the past eight years, during part of which time he was the Corporation Clerk under Secretary of State Harry V. McChesney, left Tuesday evening for St. Louis, en route to Pawhuska, Oklahoma, where he will likely locate and resume the practice of law, which he gave up temporarily when he entered the service of the State. Mr. Watt also has received several offers from prominent and wealthy politicians of Oklahoma to engage in the newspaper business, one of the offers coming from Gov. Haskell, who owns a paper at Guthrie.

Mr. Watt spent several days recently in various towns in the new State on a prospecting trip, and while he has decided to locate permanently in that section, he has not fully decided which proposition he will accept, although he regards the one looking to the practice of law, a partnership having been offered him by one of the most prominent lawyers of the Southwest, as being the best.

REVENUE

ASSIGNMENTS 7TH DISTRICT

MORE ACTIVITY IN DISTILLING INDUSTRY AND CIVIL SERVICE LIST CALLED ON FOR BRIEF PERIODS.

The March assignment of storekeepers and gaugers in the Seventh Internal Revenue District shows increased activity in the distilling industry, although it is still far below the average for this season of the year. Four deaths in the service within a few months and the illness of several others have made necessary a number of appointments of temporary men from the civil service eligible list, mostly for brief periods. Selection for these emergency appointments are made as a rule from the men on the list living nearest to the distilleries where extra men are needed, as the terms of service are mostly not long enough to justify long trips and traveling expenses. The eligible list is the longest the district has ever had, 42 names in all, and the outlook is that but a small proportion of the eligibles will be needed, at least for anything more than scattered periods of a few days now and then.

MARCH ASSIGNMENTS.

MARDI GRAS.

Its Origin And How It Is And Has Been Celebrated.

There is only room for smiles and jests in New Orleans when Mardi Gras rolls around each year and the day is celebrated with wonted enthusiasm, preparations being made several months before the climax comes, when the old city is unveiled in all of its gay attire and such a thing as business is forgotten for the time. The word carnival is derived from the Latin, composed of two words, carno and vale, which means farewell to meat. Mardi Gras is derived from the French and means fat Tuesday; Mardi being the word for Tuesday and Gras the word for fat.

Dating back to the time of Telesphorus, Bishop of Rome in the second century, the festive date was accordingly devised. The season of Lent, or forty days' fasting, had already been instituted. In Rome the inhabitants held a series of public dinners, the city was lighted with torches and the vineyards, like those which furnished inspiration to Omar Khayyam for his immortal verses, were well filled with guests. The next city which caught the flavor of the celebration was Paris, and year after year the Parisians had their carnival. Masking became the fashion and the city swarmed with men and women in fanciful costumes. After the new world was discovered and New Orleans sprang into existence that city caught the inspiration from the gay Parisians and early in the eighteenth century Mardi Gras, or Shrove Tuesday, was observed as gala day. Feasts were given and the day wound up with a ball—grand hall.

The first real procession made its appearance on the streets when the celebrants paraded in decorated wagons and the routes were confined to the old French quarter. At the end of the day all made merry at a ball given at the Theater D'Orleans, the favorite rendezvous for the maskers.

Comus made his bow in 1857 and an elaborate parade appeared, but Momus' first parade was on New Year's eve, 1871, and two years later the date was changed to Thursday before Mardi Gras. Rex did not make his entry into the city until 1872 accompanied by a bodyguard of Arabs. Five years later Rex emulated Comus and Momus with a tableaux series, entitled "The Progress of the World." Ten years later Proteus made his appearance, the night before Mardi Gras.

Nowhere in the world is the carnival as given in New Orleans surpassed, and men are employed the year around devising some means for surpassing the celebration of the previous year. Visitors from all parts of the world throng into the Southern city weeks before the glad day arrives.

JUDGE STOUT

Decides in Favor Of Kennedy Helm Against The State Auditor.

Circuit Judge Robert L. Stout, of the State Fiscal Court, has rendered a decision in the case of T. Kennedy Helm versus the State Auditor, in the case relative to Mr. Helm's fee of $4,000 for executing violators of the Sunday closing law in Louisville. Mr. Hager, who had just been defeated for Governor, refused to pay the fee, on the ground that Governor Beckham had no legal right to make the contract. Judge Stout peremptorily overrules Mr. Hager, and holds that Governor Beckham acted in a legal and proper way. He therefore issues a mandamus requiring the payment of the bill. The case will be appealed.

MARRIAGE

Of Miss Utterback and Mr. Smith Solemnized on Wednesday at Lexington.

Miss Lella Utterback, of this county, and Mr. Talmage Smith, of Fayette county, were united in marriage on Wednesday evening at six o'clock, at the parsonage of the First Christian Church, in Lexington. The pastor, Rev. I. J. Spencer, performed the ceremony.

Their marriage at this time came as a happy surprise to friends, their preference for a quiet wedding having caused them to withhold their plans from all save a small company.

Miss Utterback is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Utterback, who formerly made their home in this county, but recently moved to Lexington. She is quite an attractive and lovable young lady, whose many friends in this county will offer congratulations. Mr. Smith is a successful young farmer, of Fayette county, and a member of a prominent family.

IS "IN GOOD."

Mr. Thatcher, is being congratulated by his friends on his enviable position in politics and his recent successes. In the first place he was one of the Republicans who groomed James F. Grinstead, of Louisville, put him into the Mayor's race and nominated him. He was one of the managers of Gov. Willson's campaign and directed the fight of the Republicans in the legislative districts. Willson and Grinstead were returned winners and then Mr. Thatcher came here as former Gov. W. O. Bradley's campaign manager and remained here until dition he is the recognized representative of Mr. Fairbanks in Kentucky.

Mr. Thatcher is a modest, unassuming man and says he only did what he could. However, no man in Kentucky is closer to Gov. Willson, Senator-elect Bradley and Vice President Fairbanks than the young Louisville lawyer.

TERMS, $1.00 IN ADVANCE

FRANKFORT, MARCH 7, 1908

With this issue the Roundabout changes its name and we take this occasion to say a word to the future policy of the Frankfort News, as the paper shall hereafter be known.

While the new management feels a pardonable pride in the changes that have already been effected, it is by no means the paper that we intend to make it in a few weeks. Naturally there is a great deal of work incident to the transfer of a large business, and as yet we have not organized our editorial staff. The volume of work that has been turned out by the Frankfort Printing Company since the transfer of the property has kept the present force busy day and night, but the force will be enlarged at the earliest date possible and we hope then to show our patrons that a first-class paper can be published and maintained in Frankfort.

It shall be the policy of this paper to give the news of the day as it is. The happenings of the day will not be colored to please or to injure any man, or set of men, but it will be written without bias. The editorial columns of the paper will be used to advance the interests of Frankfort and the State, and they will not be given over to "doubtful disputations" concerning matters of personal grievances or unjust criticisms. We believe the public is tired of such things, and are convinced that the people desire a paper that will publish the truth.

The Daily News will speak for itself when it makes its debut in Frankfort in the near future.

The people of Kentucky owe to Hon. Jerre Sullivan, representative from Madison county, a debt of gratitude they will never fully be able to pay. Mr. Sullivan came to the Legislature with the determination to advance the cause of education in Kentucky, and how well he has done his duty is apparent to every man and woman in this State who has kept up with the proceedings of the present Legislature.

Mr. Sullivan is a man of splendid character and exceptional ability, and that this is appreciated by his colleagues is attested by the fact that even during the hot senatorial fight he received the support of members of both parties in the carrying out of his laudable purpose. The people of his district should press such a man into higher service for his State.

The cause of education has been greatly advanced by the present session of the Legislature, and the relief did not come before it was needed. We are all proud of the old Commonwealth, and we will have cause to be more proud of her than ever when the new educational laws become effective.

MR. KIMBALL

OF THE ASHLAND DISTRICT

SAYS DEMOCRATIC PROSPECTS ARE FINE AND BRYAN WILL BE PRESIDENT.

Congressman W. P. Kimball, of the Ashland district, who is spending a few days here "looking in" on the session of the General Assembly, is highly enthusiastic over the prospects of electing a Democratic President at the coming November election. Congressman Kimball says he knows what he is talking about when he says that the Republicans are badly demoralized and the worst split up in years. He says the bitterness has frequently cropped out at the present session of Congress, and that many of the g. o. p. leaders have their knives whetted to a razor edge.

He says that Taft is certain to be the next Republican candidate for President, and this is all over but the shouting. He says that, despite the fact that President Roosevelt has made the candidacy of the War Secretary his own, there is a vast difference in the men, and they do not agree on many things.

Bryan, who, according to the Ashland Congressman, will be nominated by acclamation at the Denver convention, is the embodiment of principles that he found lodgment head in the American people. Mr. Kimball and he believes that everything indicates that he will be sworn into the White House by an avalanche of votes. Mr. Kimball insists the Democrats never had a prospect in the history of the

The Fairbanks Republican Third congressional district an effort to defeat J. Frank Glasgow, for re-election central Committeeman.

HUGHES LEAGUE ORGANIZED

PROMINENT REPUBLICANS HERE
TO GET KENTUCKY'S DELEGATION FOR NEW YORK GOVERNOR.

Republican members of the General Assembly and some of the State officials have organized the Hughes League of Kentucky, and hope to have Kentucky's delegation to the National Convention instructed either for Hughes first or second. If the fight between Taft and Fairbanks gets any and the Hughes men say that, both sides could agree on Hughes delegates from this State. If either a Taft or a Fairbanks delegation goes from Kentucky something will have to be done. It is believed that this delegation will be composed of men who favor Hughes as second choice.

The Hughes movement in Kentucky is getting to amount to something and the sentiment is becoming general that he will be the nominee on whom the anti-Taft men will agree. Many of the leading Republican politicians who come to Frankfort are really for Hughes, and say that he will be the man who can beat Bryan. They are for Taft or Fairbanks or some other man, but all have a good word to say for the Governor of New York, and those who favor Fairbanks say that they may have to unite on Hughes to beat Taft.

Mr. Humphreys, general manager of the Hughes boom, was in Frankfort Wednesday and organized the Hughes Club, which will be spread over the entire State and will not be confined to only one city or county. Thomas B. McGregor was elected president of the league, Roy Wilhoit secretary and treasurer, and T. F. Vinson, vice president. John P. Haswell, R. A. Cook, W. E. Bidwell, D. B. Cornett and Sawyer A. Smith were appointed as the executive committee.

Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, president of the Hughes League of the United States, is expected in Kentucky the coming week, and will make several addresses. A strong organization is on foot in Louisville for Hughes, and with the organization of the Kentucky League it will probably mean the inception of a Hughes boom in Kentucky which will result in a tide hard to stem.

THATCHER

THE NEW STATE INSPECTOR

ASSUMES HIS DUTIES MONDAY
AND WILL INVESTIGATE OFFICERS OF AUDITOR AND TREASURER.

Mr. M. H. Thatcher, the new State Inspector and Examiner, who succeeds Judge Henry B. Hines, assumed his office Monday morning. He was appointed several weeks ago by Gov. Willson, but by agreement his confirmation was held up in the Senate until a few days ago in order to allow Judge Hines to serve out his full four years.

Mr. Thatcher's appointment is the was Gov. Bradley's most trusted lieutenant for valiant party services. He tenant in his race for Senator and had much to do with the result. Mr. Thatcher states that his first official act would be a thorough examination of the offices of the State Auditor and Treasurer. He will be a very busy official for some time to come, as he has plenty of work cut out for him.

He wants first to get a correct idea of the State's finances and how the State stands and later he may take up the other State offices. He is allowed to employ such help as he may need and probably will employ expert accountants to help him in the Treasurer's office.

What is the News? One dollar a year.

Already thousands of dollars have been raised. In addition to this, a bill has been introduced in the State Legislature appropriating $25,000 for the relief of the needy fire sufferers. This bill, it is expected, will become a law today.

LOUISVILLE

TOBACCO

MARKET

Total sales in this market last week were 5,354 hogsheds, against 6,608 hogsheds sold in corresponding week of last year. Total receipts last week were 4,504 hogsheds against 3,168 hogsheds received on corresponding week of last year. Rejections last week were 467 hogsheds, 10 per cent. of the autumn sales, against 10 per cent. of the preceding week. Of the total sales 3,956 hogsheds were Burley and 1,398 hogsheds were dark tobacco.

Offerings were again heavy this week. Tuesday's breaks contained 478 hogsheds Burley, and 403 hogsheds dark. Wednesday, 1,174 hogsheds Burley, and 119 hogsheds dark. Thursday, 1,106 hogsheds Burley, and 154 hogsheds dark.

The market has not been so satisfactory this week. Considerable irregularity has some fluctuations in prices developed. There was an undercurrent indicating an easier feeling on the red type of Burley, except perhaps on the medium grades. Good and fine leaf was several bids lower, while trash and very common lugs were a trifle easier. The medium grades seemed to hold their own fairly well. Color types were in limited supply and met with strong competition. Prices on this were fairly well maintained.

Considerable percentage of the offerings this week was in soft order, and buyers inclined to discount prices when the samples appears in soft condition.

The market continued strong and active yesterday. Offerings were larger than usual for a Friday, the aggregate at all the warehouses being 1,028 hogsheds—351 Burley and 177 dark. There was a large attendance of buyers, growers and dealers. The quality of the offerings was good and sales figures were generally acceptable to shippers, as shown by the small percentage of rejections. No change was noted in prices.

The Ninth-street house offered sixty-eight hogsheds of new Burley, which brought from $7.90 to $16, and twenty-two hogsheds of new dark brought from $4.85 to $10.75. A crop of eighteen hogsheds of Burley shipped by Charis & Well, of Missouri, brought an average of $13.05. The market was unchanged. No rejections were reported.

The People's house sold 145 hogsheds of new Burley, which brought from $7 to $18.50, and seven hogsheds of the same quality. The market was unchanged. No rejections were reported. The People's house sold 145 hogsheds of new Burley, which brought from $7 to $18.50, and seven hogsheds

The same thrift and economy that he has always shown brought him good profits, and in a few years a new house with all modern conveniences took the place of the old one, and a new barn added to both looks and value of the farm.

The effect of this example was and is to be seen upon every farm round about him. Ambitious young men starting out in life strove to adopt his plans and practices. He was a pioneer dairyman, and in a few years the whole community had dropped into the dairy business. He built a silo, and others quickly followed suit. He plowed most of his land upon which spring crops were to be cultivated, and others seeing the increase of his crops resulting from this practice were not slow in adopting this and other advanced farm methods which he put into practice. He is always ready to give advice when asked, or accommodate a neighbor when in his power to do so without seriously neglecting his own affairs. When he drives to town with his family he murrles out in as stylish a rig as anybody drives, and he don't wear chin whiskers nor a ten cent straw hat.

There is a farmer here and there who is worth more to the community in which he lives than he is to himself. He is the one who is always taking up and trying every new fad or invention that comes along—runs a sort of investigating bureau, so to speak—an expensive indulgence, but his experience is worth a good deal to his fellows. They can sift out the wheat from the chaff and retain that which is good and profitable in farm operations and avoid his mistakes.

The man who has the means to branch out and test the very latest improvements and discoveries made along agricultural lines—the various kinds of improved machinery and pedigree seeds, who can test such matters as inoculation of the soil, the various kinds of commercial fertilizers and the like, is engaged in a pioneer work that is worth much to all who are engaged in agricultural pursuits, and where these experiences can be scattered broadcast through the medium of the farm press, every inquiring, progressive farmer in the county is benefitted.

Even the bad examples set by old Peter Tumbledown, it seems to us, has a salutary influence upon all progressive agriculturists. Peter is not as numerous as he was in days gone by, and when we do find him his rickety buildings, dilapidated fences, fields washed into gutters, and scrub stock demonstrates to the new farmer what sort of fortune awaits him if he doesn't get into the harness in proper shape and pull for success with an energy and determination that knows no such word as fail.

It's a great mistake not to encourage farmers who persist in taking the initiative in all progressive matters—who bring in new blooded stock, who are leaders in organizing agricultural societies, granges, clubs, poultry shows, and the like, for the result in every instance is, that all are put upon a higher plane of thought and labor which is bound to count on the side of profit and satisfaction in the end.—From Farmers' Home Journal.

MIKE ROONEY

Says So Called "Luck" Has Nothing To Do With Making Or Unmaking Man's Fortune.

The Louisville Times in its column "All Around The Town," has the following item which will be of interest to Mike Rooney's many friends in Frankfort.

There are those who contend that so-called "luck" has nothing to do with making or unmaking a man's fortune. Such is not the belief of "Mike" Rooney, formerly of Louisville and Frankfort. Rooney was Inspector of Drains, in the employ of the city, six years ago, but was let out because he was not in accord with the administration. He immediately went West, locating at Keokuk Falls, Okla.

Rooney is a quick-witted Irishman, and was formerly Assistant Warden of the penitentiary at Frankfort. He fell in with a wealthy ranchman named Tomlinson, who suggested to him that they start a distillery. They did so, and made "a barrel of money," so to speak. Besides being a half owner in the distillery, Rooney now owns a big ranch and many cattle and sheep in Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Rooney was in Louisville recently, and said to his friend, J. Henry Hoertz, former secretary of the Board of Works:

"I am glad the administration discharged me, and feel like sending the former members of the Board of Work a barrel of whisly each, and also some fat lambs. Had I continued working in the City Hall I would have been as poor as Job's turkey, and most likely have been discharged when the Grinstead administration came in."

Rooney says he would rather live in Kentucky than any place on earth, but that Oklahoma is the State in which to make money. After he gets a million or so together he intends to come back here and start a distillery and establish a stock farm.

For years Mr. Rooney too a prominent part in Kentucky politics. Having served as Assistant Warden of the penitentiary he new many ex-convicts and prevented them from voting after their terms expired. He did valuable service to the local Democratic organization in preventing negro ex-convicts, who had been disfranchised from voting the Republican ticket in this city.

Many people make the mistake in winter of letting the milk and cream stand too long before churning.

RECEPTION AT MARTIN'S.

A handsome reception was given last Tuesday afternoon by Mr. A. D. Martin, at his home, on Second street, to the Members of the Legislature, the Judges of the Appellate Court and the present and the retiring State officials.

The house was decorated for the smart occasion in red tulips and lighted by red tapers in silver candelabras. The dining room was especially beautiful. One long table and several small ones being decorated with low bowls or red tulips. These were also placed on the mantle and on the buffet. Here a delicious menu was served to the guests. Mrs. Martin presided in the dining room, and was assisted by Mrs. J. C. W. Beckham, Mrs. Harry Tandy, Mrs. Sam J. Shackelford, Mrs. John South, Mrs. John Stewart, Miss Roberta Cox, Miss Elsie Leavy and Miss Nina Visscher in waiting on the numerous gentlemen guests present. The library had for its decorations, big silk flags of the Artillery and Navy draped above the bay windows. In the middle of the window stood an immense cut glass punch bowl, where delicious champagne punch was served. In the conservatory another large punch bowl and in the living room another. All the rooms were in decorations of red tulips and smilax. The menu comprised turkey loaf, Woldorf salad, croquettes, beaten biscuits and coffee. The cream, in the shape of the dome on the new Capital, made a decided hit with the members of the Assembly.

FEAMSTER-CROWE.

Mr. and Mrs. William Crowe announce the coming wedding of their sister, Miss Letty Craig Crowe to Mr. James Withrow Feamster, of Mississippi. Miss Crowe is well known in Frankfort, where she has spent most of her time for several years.

Mr. Feamster is a brother of Mr. George and Dr. J. H. Feamster, and has often visited them in this city.

Mr. Feamster is in Washington City, where he has his headquarters with the railroad contractors, Messrs. Rhinehart & Dennis Co.

The wedding will take place in the early summer.

MRS. MARTIN ENTERTAINS CLUB.

One of the prettiest entertainments of the Large Bridge Club was given by Mrs. A. D. Martin this week, at her home, on Second street.

A lovely luncheon was served before the games, and the house and table decorations were in yellow tulips and ferns.

This will be the last meeting of the Large Bridge Club until after Lent is over. The games will then be continued and the pin awarded to the one making the highest score during the series of the meetings of the Club.

OLD-FASHIONED DANCE.

The dance at the Capital Hotel given by the Members of the General Assembly to the Assembly Ball Club, and friends, could not, by the widest stretch of the imagination be called "conventional."

It was not intended to be such. The Members of the Legislature, who have not been reared in the city, have something coming to them, and they got it. After a few figures had been danced, the "gentleman from Monroe county" called out "to get your partners for the quadrill."

Some of those present had forgotten what the quadrill looked like, but the dancers were as game as the "gentleman from away down there in the sticks," and pretty soon a "grapevine," a half mile long, were dizzily cavorting over the floor.

To give a zest to matters generally several special stunts were indulged in. "Windy Bill" and a few colleagues gave some extra fine "jigging," which promised to continue till morning till some of those who wanted more quadrills pulled them off the floor. Representative Denham, who "lowed" he couldn't play a note, but could make some noise on the banjo, kept his word, and the jigging was continued.

Governor Bradley joined heartily in the encores. The Frankfort Orchestra caught the spirit of the dance and from the way that horns brayed and blared it put music in the feet of those who had not danced for several years.

The receiving line were composed of Governor Bradley and Mrs. W. H. Cox, Governor Cox and Mrs. John G. South, Mr. Thurman Dixon and Miss Roberta Cox, Mr. Speaker Gooch and Mrs. A. D. Martin, Mr. Haswell and Miss Johnson won the pin "for keeps" having made the highest score during the series of the Club's meetings.

Tea and cakes were served in an attractive manner to the guests present.

THE CHILDREN'S CARNIVAL.

The Children's Carnival last week at the Coliseum, was one of the prettiest affairs yet held at that place of favorite amusement.

For the prettiest dress present, Miss Agnes Saffell won first prize, as a "pink chrysanthemum." Miss Lella Rosson won second as a "yellow butterfly."

All the costumes were bright and beautiful, and the management felt as if he would have liked to have given one for every effort made—for they all deserved one.

ASSOCIATION OF KENTUCKY DAIRYMEN

ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

About fifty dairymen met at the courthouse in Shelbyville Tuesday afternoon and formally organized the Kentucky State Dairymen's Association. Officers for the year were elected as follows: Hart Wallace, of Shelbyville, president; J. M. The organization is to promote friendly co-operation of the dairymen of the State for mutual benefit and to insure the furnishing to the public of pure dairy products and to suggest and advise proper regulations to promote such ends. Only persons actually engaged in the production and sale of dairy products are eligible for membership. The meeting was very enthusiastic throughout.

At a meeting of representatives of the Louisville, Owensboro and Lexington automobile clubs, held Thursday in Louisville, a State body was formed to be known as the Kentucky Automobile Association, and will become affiliated with the American Automobile Association. It is probable that other clubs soon will become connected with the association.

Ira S. Barnett, of Louisville, was elected president of the association for the coming year. Articles of incorporation will be filed within the next few days. The object of the association is to promote the interests of automobiles of the State and to advocate good roads. The other officers elected are as follows:

Vice Presiden—F. R. Toewater, of Lexington.

Secretary and Treasurer—Walter Kohn, of Louisville.

The directors in the State Association from the three club members are:

ESCAPED CONVICT.

Sent Up From Louisville With Batch
Of Prisoners. Reward Out standing For Him.

A reward of $100 was outstanding for Henry Stegney, colored, received at the Penitentiary from Louisville Thursday morning to serve three years for grand larceny.

About eight years ago Henry Stegney was sent to prison for burglary to serve a seven-year sentence. When but about seven months of his sentence remained, he apparently became insane. After a thorough investigation of his case he was committed to the asylum at Lexington. A few months later he escaped from that institution. As he had but a short time to serve in prison, the authorities, after notifying the police of the different cities, took no especial pains to locate him beyond a reward of $100 for his arrest and return to the Penitentiary.

Nothing more was heard of him until Thursday, when he was received from Louisville with a batch of prisoners. He had been sentenced there under his own name to serve three years for grand larceny.

County Judge James H. Polsgrove, Monday morning sustained the demurrer of Gus LaFontaine in the suit of M. P. Rehorn, State Revenue agent at large, against him to collect from him a license for selling liquor at his restaurant on Broadway. Judge Polsgrove held that he had no authority to make Mr. LaFontaine take out a license, but holds that if he is guilty of violating the liquor laws Mr. Rehorn should swear out a warrant against him and have him tried, and if he is found guilty, then a fine is the proper remedy for the court to use. It is said Mr. Rehorn will appeal the case.

APPROPRIATION

To Be Asked in Louisville To Mark
Grave Of Governor Shelby's Granddaughter.

A motion will be introduced at the next meeting of the city council in Louisville, by Eugene M. Dalley, Councilman from the Twelfth Ward, to have that city appropriate $150 to place a headstone or small monument over the grave of Mary Carleton, the granddaughter of Isaac Shelby, the first Governor of Kentucky, who is buried in the Portland cemetery. Mary Carleton died at the almshouse on May 2, 1882, and although the location of her grave is known, nothing marks the spot. Mr. Dalley deprecates the fact that the first grandchild of a Kentucky Governor should not have a fitting memorial.

FRANKFORT EVANGELIST.

Returns From Henry County Where He Has Been Conducting A Successful Revival.

Noel Gaines, the Frankfort evangelist, has just closed a successful revival at Bethlehem, Henry county, Ky., where he was called by the Methodist Church at that place. Mr. Gaines delivered a number of vigorous lectures during his stay in Henry county and the meetings accomplished untold good. The people of that county regard Mr. Gaines as an earnest and tireless worker and a brilliant future is predicted for him in the evangelistic field.

Mr. Gaines will remain in Frankfort the greater part of the present month where he is engaged in some special work relative to an investigation of the Adjutant General's department.

STAMPING GROUND.

The little son of Robert Marshall Lee, 4 years old, is very ill of pneumonia.

There are a number of cases of sickness reported in and near town, grip or pneumonia, but none of a very serious character.

At the administrator's sale of the late Mr. W. C. Perry, Saturday, there was a good crowd in attendance and personal property brought fairly good prices.

Mr. John Lewis Wiley, of Franklin county, has moved to the Haner Hotel property, bought by his father, Mr. Alvin Wiley, at commissioner's sale several months ago for $2,500. Mr. Wiley has opened a meat market. Moving time has again rolled round and many changes are being made. Mr. Charley Murphy will leave the Wash place and move to his own home, on the Elmville pike; and Mr. James Kelley will succeed him. Jas. Marshall has rented his brother's place, near Oldham's Mill, and Mr. Newton Morgan, will succeed him, having bought the Thompson place near Woolen's cross roads.

Mr. Jno. Richards, town marshal, took to Georgetown Thursday afternoon, Mr. Jno. Lewis Cohorn, who had given himself up to him saying that he had shot at his father. Mr. Hugh Hohorn, and wanted to be taken to jail for protection. Cohorn and his father had had some trouble and the young man fired through a window at his father with a shot gun, filling the back of the chair with shot. The elder Cohorn was leaning forward at the time and no shot took effect.

CONTESTS.

In The House Of Representatives
Are Now A Dead Issue.

Nobody expects to hear anything more from the contest cases in the House, and these in all probability will be allowed to die in committee. A sop will likely be thrown to the contestants in the shape of allowing claims for their expenses incurred. This action will insure their seats to Hugh Mahin, of Jessamine county, and J. Hal Woodford, of Bourbon county. Their opponents made strong fights and were constantly on the ground. Their votes were needed by the Republicans in the Senatorial race but the Democrats successfully combated every effort to get the cases called up for action.

ETERNAL SLEEP

Comes to Eleanor VanDerveer, Bright
Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. VanDerveer.

Little Eleanor VanDerveer, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. VanDerveer, died Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, at the home of her parents, on Shelby street, near Second street. She had been ill for the past two weeks with pneumonia, and early Sunday morning gradually grew worse until death came to her relief. The little girl was not quite two years old, a charming child, who was the inspiration of fond hopes and had won the devotion of all who knew her.

The funeral services were held Tuesday morning, at ten o'clock, from the residence of her parents, and were conducted by Rev. Jesse R. Ziegler, of the First Presbyterian Church, and the remains were interred in the family lot at the State Cemetery.

PITTSBURGH PERFECT FENCING (Special Style)

For People Seeking Profitable Publicity

UP TO THE MINUTE.

We study the style in typography and are constantly prepared to arrange your work in the manner that fashion dictates, though we always avoid the extremes that appear absurd. Verily, the styles change in printing as in dress, and good taste is seen in one as in the other. We secure the latest productions of the type foundries that are desirable, and carry an assortment of the good things in paper in medium and higher grade, and when we send you a finished job it will be a credit to you as well as to us. We strive to make each job better than the preceding one. If there is any special stock you desire, we will at once make effort to secure it for you; if you have some special idea that you wish carried out, or if some cuts are to be designed and made, you can not do better than to consult us. We take a particular interest in such things, and give the matter personal attention.

We have seen it written somewhere that "confidence is a creature of slow growth," and believing such to be true, it is with much gratification that we note the many friends we have made during our ownership and management of this business; we say it with personal pleasure that we recount the many new names on our books, and how, from time to time, we have been able to add material to our printshop, and keep it up to the requirements of our constantly increasing patronage. This has not, however, been without obstacles to surmount—such as most business men have encountered—but by constantly striving to give high-class work at honest prices, have accomplished all that we could modestly hope for. We do not want ALL the work; only such as we can do with perfect satisfaction to our customers and ourselves. While it is our regular customers to whom we owe our success, we would be ungrateful not to express our thanks for their support and ask its continuance.

The man who does not advertise because he tried it and failed should throw away his cigar because the light went out.

The man who does not advertise because it costs money, should quit paying rent for the same reason.

IT'S UP TO YOU.

Did it ever occur to you that your printed matter is one of the things that point largely to your style of doing business? What do you think of a man whose stationery is poorly printed? Don't you unconsciously get the impression that he is careless in his business methods? Isn't it a fact that all the bill-heads, letter-heads, booklets, pamphlets and circulars you send out are each and every one a good advertisement for you if neatly done, and a bad ad. if poorly executed?

We are daily planning stylish, business-getting things. We want you to get next to some of those things—some of those happy effects in printing which can not help but warm up the soul of the buyer. Haven't we said enough?

Konsider the postage stamp, my son. Its usefulness consists in its ability to stick to wun thing until it gets there.—Billings.

It is not always the man who has the goods that makes good—its the man who delivers the goods.

So long as we love, we serve. So long as we are loved by others I would almost say we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend.

OPPORTUNITY.

Opporchnuty knocks at every man's door. On some men's doors it hammers till it breaks down th' door an' th' in goes in an' wakes him up. If he's asleep, an' afterward it wurrks fr him as a night watchman. On other men's doors it knocks and runs away, an' on th' doors iv some men it knocks an' whin they come out it hits them over th' head with a ax. But iveryman has an opporchnuty.—Mr. Dooley.

We have had a whiff of success and now we hanker for more. Success is proof of merit. It must meet the necessity of trade. We are right here in Frankfort to meet such a necessity—that of good printing, and in doing so we hope to attain success. The facilities of our plant are such as to help us do this, and we are just the sort to do good printing. We can print booklets and other forms of good stuff that will dodge the waste-basket, and make you glad you are in business.

PRIMARY

IN 12TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

TO FILL OUT UNEXPIRED TERM OF JUDGE R. FRANK PEAK, WHO RESIGNED.

The Democratic Executive Committee of the Twelfth Judicial district met at Shelbyville on last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and called a primary election for Saturday, June 20, to select a nominee for Circuit Judge in the twelfth district to fill out the unexpired term of one year of Judge R. Frank Peak, who resigned several months ago, and was succeeded by Judge Charles G. Marshall, who was appointed by Gov. Beckham. C. M. Lewis, of Shelbyville, was chairman and Ambrose Dudley, of Henry county, was secretary of the meeting.

All the counties in the district, which is composed of Shelby, Spencer, Anderson, Henry, Oldham and Trimble, were represented at the meeting. The expenses of the primary were estimated at $1,400, making the entrance fee $700 for each candidate. The oath clause, in which the nominee is required to make oath that he has not used whisky nor money in the election, is incorporated in the call.

There are two formally announced candidates, Judge Chas. G. Marshall, of Shelbyville, the incumbent, and Judge James S. Morris, of Lagrange, who presided in the last Powers trial. Both candidates favored the primary. Every county in the district is strongly Democratic and the nomination is equivalent to election. The winner will most certainly be a candidate for the full six-year term, the election for which takes place in November, 1909.

GOV. COX.

Makes Formal Announcement of His Candidacy for National Representative.

Hon. William H. Cox, Lieutenant Governor, formally announced Wednesday night that he will be a candidate for national committee man to succeed John W. Yerkes. His opponent will be R. P. Ernst, who has already announced as a candidate for the place.

This means that there will be a hot fight for the position, but friends of Lieut. Gov. Cox believe that he will have no trouble landing the honor. He will have the backing of the newly elected Senator, W. O. Bradley, and will have the support of the Fairbanks wing of the Republican party in Kentucky, as well as many of the strongest Taft supporters. It will be a fight of the Ernst faction against the others, and it now looks like Mr. Ernst will be lost in the shuffle.

The fact that Mr. Ernst was opposed to Bradley and tried to defeat him for Senator as is charged and believed by many of the Republicans, will rally to the support of his opponent a large number of the leading Republicans of the State. At any rate there will be an interesting contest.

Mr. Cox is one of the most popular and able men in the State.

MR. JAMES IMPROVING.

ATTRACT ATTENTION.

Success in advertising depends upon favorably attracting the attention of that portion of the public you wish to reach. The eye appreciates a fine piece of printed work and disposes the mind to accept the argument before a single line of type matter is read. The opposite is, of course, true of poor printing. The very strongest argument may be lost behind work. In correspondence, the stationary you use should have that stamp of neatness which creates a favorable impression of your business and its methods. Remember, your stationary is your personal representative and is all by which some of your correspondents have to judge you. Then, too, the pleasure of using neat stationary. The little extra thought and time we put on each individual job, with a little more expense, perhaps, in material here and there, gives our work that touch of completeness which, consciously or unconsciously impresses the observer of superior workmanship in any branch of industry, and makes it resultful printing.

MEMO

Lincoln Farm Favored by Representative Johnson.

Representative Ben Johnson, of Kentucky, appeared before the House Committee on Appropriations at Washington, Wednesday, on behalf of the Madden bill appropriating money for the erection of the old Lincoln farm, in Larue county, Ky., of a memorial hall, which shall serve as a national shrine of patriotism.

The hall is to cost $250,000, of which sum the Government is to pay $100,000 and the Lincoln Farm Association, of New York, $150,000. The association has already raised $100,000 by popular subscription. It proposes to raise the remaining $50,000 within twelve months.

The bill provides that the humble, weather-worn cabin of logs in which Abraham Lincoln was born shall be included within and be protected by the memorial, and that the work of building shall begin immediately and that the memorial shall be dedicated of February 12, 1909, the centennial of Lincoln's birth.

Mr. Johnson also has pending a bill providing for a road from Hodgenville and from one other point to the Lincoln farm.

ERECTED AT ONCE.

Senator R. B. Brown, of Warsaw, Ballwin county, is an announced candidate for delegate from the Sixth congressional District to the Democratic National Convention to be held in Denver, Col., July 7. Senator Brown is one of the most active Democrats in the Sixth district and a tower of strength to the party. He served in the State Senate twelve years ago and is one of the ablest lawyers in the upper branch of the Legislature at the present session. Senator Brown is a most ardent admirer of William Jennings Bryan and predicts the complete triumph of the "Great Commoner" at the coming presidential election. In the estimation of the Gallatin Senator the Nebraskan is the greatest statesman the nation has ever produced and he is glad to subscribe to anything he advocates.

Congressman Helm, of the Eighth district, has announced his candidacy for re-election. He wants a Democratic primary called to make the nomination.

C. H. Berryman, manager of Elmendorf Farm, in Fayette county, left Thursday for Toronto, Canada, where he will be joined by F. W. Harding, a noted breeder of Waukesha, Wis.,
to look at the flock of a noted importer of Shropshire-down sheep and pick out a few head for Elmendorf Farm.

While the party stands committed to the County Unit bill and a majority of the Republicans would vote for it if brought to a vote, they recognize that every step of the way this measure will encounter bitter opposition and should they stake their all on this measure would likely meet with defeat and destroy every chance of getting through their pet measure. Consequently the leaders of the party are counseling that "a half loaf is better than no bread," and that the exigencies of the situation demand that they do not undertake to carry too big a load. Some of the Republicans are also saying that it is no more incumbent on them to pass the County Unit Extension bill than the Democrats.
